The European Social Fund Plus Basic Material Assistance Program – Basic Program is designed as a fundamental tool to guarantee comprehensive care for individuals. It promotes their well-being and autonomy by providing a prepaid card that allows beneficiary families to cover basic needs related to the right to adequate food.

To achieve these objectives, it is not enough to establish general guidelines: it is necessary to implement support measures that facilitate the practical application of the program and ensure its real impact on people's lives.

This guide brings together guidance and resources intended to complement the Basic Program in three essential areas:

- Social resources: guaranteeing access to support and services that strengthen inclusion and quality of life.
- Employment: promoting job placement and skills development that promote economic autonomy.
- Nutrition: provide information on a healthier diet balanced and adapted to individual needs.

The proposed measures aim to:

- Facilitate the active participation of users and their families.
- Promote training as a mechanism for improvement • Equip families with tools that allow them to manage their economies in a more appropriate way.

In short, this guide aims to be a practical tool that reinforces the effectiveness of the Basic Program, contributing to the inclusion of beneficiaries through a list of resources as pillars of comprehensive and sustainable care.

Nutritional labeling

Energy value: Indicated in the nutrition and it is usually the first piece of information found on the panel section.

Fats: Total fat and saturated fat content are detailed. It is recommended to choose products with low saturated fat content and avoid trans fats.

Carbohydrates: Includes the total amount and the amount of sugars. A low-sugar product has less than 5 grams per 100 grams.

Proteins: It is important to check the amount of protein, especially in foods that are a primary source of nutrients.

Salt: Indicated in grams. A content exceeding 1.5 grams per 100 grams is considered high.

Fiber: Products with at least 3 grams of fiber per 100 grams are a good choice for intestinal health.

Serving size: Nutritional information is calculated for a specific serving (e.g., one cup of cereal or two crackers), not for the entire package.

List of ingredients: They are listed in order from highest to lowest quantity.

Expiration date and best before: Indicates until when the food is safe to eat or when its optimal properties are guaranteed.

Origin and manufacturer: Includes name and address of the manufacturer/distributor and country of origin.

Storage conditions: Indicates how to store the product correctly to keep it in good condition.
